Project Description

Canadian politics and public policy have never been more exciting! With the lead up to the 2019 federal election, the legalization of cannabis, and other fascinating issues, there is plenty to learn about what is going on within the borders of our northern neighbor. We seek a dynamic team of virtual interns who will help us understand these issues in greater-depth, and to present them in clear, concise ways. Interns will gain an in-depth understanding of several elements of the Canadian political system, as well as a broad understanding of politics in Canada.
